CITY DOCTORS HAVE BEEN KEPT BUSY

The final meeting of the Board of Charities for 1909, was held last evening. The most stirring feature of the meeting was the reading of the reports of Drs. E. F. McGovern, and C. J. Levey, outside physicians to the poor. Dr. McGovern reported 61 house visits during November and 4 office calls. Dr. Levey's reports showed that he made 98 calls and received one patient at his office. The commissioners were surprised to learn how busy the doctors were kept on city cases.

Merle Cowles, superintendent at Lakeside home, in reply to an inquiry from Commissioner Patrick Kane said the heating plant recently installed at the home was working to his satisfaction. A nurse at the tuberculosis hospital has been appointed to succeed Miss Margaret Doyle. She is Miss Agnes Christal.

The bills for November, exclusive of salaries, were $4,656.18. Dec. 1, there were 231 inmates at Lakeside home; 163 at the hospital for the insane; 26 at the school for imbeciles; 4 at the home for incurables; 32 at the Bridgeport hospital; 59 in St. Vincent's hospital.

Freak Chickens to Be Show Feature

At the meeting of the Bridgeport Poultry Pigeon and Pet Stock Association last evening the committee in charge of the show to be held at the armory Jan. 4, 5 and 6, 1910, reported active progress in its work. Plans for many entries and sharp competition are well under way. It was reported that among the entries would be a web-footed chicken, that has mastered the nautical art; a one-legged pullet; a wingless and rumpless chicken; and a four-legged chicken.

The meeting decided that the association should be incorporated, appointing a committee to prepare the

Spectacular Runaway

John Sears of 206 Knowlton street, was the principal in a spectacular capture of a runaway in State street, between Main and Broad streets, late yesterday. The animal, hitched to a light buggy unoccupied at the time, ran up State street across Main street, where Sears and a companion were crossing. Sears tossed a bundle to his friend and running alongside the frightened horse, seized the bridle and lifted himself off the ground to escape being trampled on. The owner later claimed the outfit and rewarded Sears with a quarter.

Disagreeing Jury Give Thanks to Court for Courtesy

The jury, in the Common Pleas Court, which had been sitting three days in the case of Seth L. Grumman of Stamford against Constable Andrew Schlechtweg, also of Stamford, could not agree on a verdict, yesterday afternoon, and were dismissed by Judge Scott, this being the last jury case at this session of the court. The plaintiff sued for $200. The plaintiff alleged that on Labor Day 1908, the defendant's auto damaged his horse and wagon. Judge Scott thanked the jurymen for their services, regretting that they were unable to come to a decision on the last case. Foreman of the jury John C. Lobdell of Greenfield Hill said that Clerk Sidney N. Lockwood had something to read. The clerk read a resolution by the jury expressing appreciation of the courtesy of Judge Scott and the court officials. The paper, signed by all the jurymen was given to Judge Scott. The judge trusted that the members of the jury would accept his thanks.
